The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio
School of Medicine and the Regional Campus of the UT Houston School of Public Health

Associate Dean, MD/MPH Program

The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio School of Medicine and the Regional Campus of the UT Houston School of Public Health seek a director for their San Antonio based MD/MPH Program. The successful candidate will provide vision, strategic planning, and oversight for the MD/MPH dual degree program, optimizing the integration of curricula and resources for the study of medicine with a special focus on population or community health via interdisciplinary training in specialty areas. These include but are not limited to, epidemiology, biostatistics, nutrition, environmental health, and health policy. Additionally, the Associate Dean, MD/MPH Program, represents the dual degree program in the health science center, local, regional, and national task forces and forums, engages in related scholarly activities, and ensures compliance with applicable accreditation standards. The Associate Dean of the MD/MPH program reports, with other education deans to the Vice Dean for Undergraduate Medical Education, and additionally to the educational leadership for the MPH program.

The University of Texas Health Science Center at San Antonio is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer including protected veterans and persons with disabilities.

Candidate Qualifications
- MD (or equivalent) and MPH (or equivalent)
- Evidence of scholarly activities, including teaching and administrative experiences
- Impeccable interpersonal and communication skills, across a broad range of stakeholder groups
- Knowledgeable about the range of benefits of MD/MPH dual degree programs and career pathways for those with both degrees

Interested individuals should submit a letter of interest describing relevant experience and characteristics, and a current CV electronically addressed to Barbara J. Turner, MD, MSED, MACP, Director of the ReACH Center and Professor of Medicine, and Chair of Associate Dean, MD/MPH Program Search Committee c/o Jennifer Hernandez, Assistant to the Vice Dean of UME, at bitoni@uthscsa.edu.

All faculty appointments are designated as security sensitive positions.